Maintenance instructions

In our view, the furniture is first of all articles for everyday use. They do not merely represent an aesthetic experience, but must also be functional and make sense in use.

We believe that furniture's looks improve with age. Daily wear and tear enriches the pieces with a patina showing that it takes part in a living environment.

Caring for our furniture requires only a few precautions. Dirt, stains, etc. are not difficult to remove if only one follows a few simple guidelines.

In general

Use a wrung cloth for daily maintenance. Always cover all areas evenly. Read the following instructions thoroughly before you start.

Important!

Never use cleaning tools containing iron.

Leather

PP Møbler's standard leather is gently treated natural leather. To remove dust and avoid drying-out, the leather should be washed in soap water one to two times a year or as necessary. We recommend a solution of 1/4 dl. white soap flakes for 5 liters of lukewarm water. Use a soft sponge or a cloth. Make sure you distribute the soapy dissolution evenly covering all surfaces and make sure the leather is not soaked. All superfluous soap water should be dried off with a dry cloth.

Papercord and cane

Should be washed in soap water one to two times a year or as necessary. We recommend a solution of 1/4 dl. white soap flakes for 5 liters of lukewarm water. Use a soft sponge or a cloth. All superfluous soap water should be dried off with a dry cloth.

Important!

Cane can break if dried-out so therefore it must be kept soft through frequent washing with soap water. Wash the cane on both sides. You can use a water-atomizer for application. All superfluous soap water should be dried off with a dry cloth.

Soap treated wood

Soap treated wood should be washed in soap water one to two times a year or as necessary. We recommend a solution of 1/4 dl. white soap flakes for 5 liters of lukewarm water. Use a soft sponge or a cloth. Make sure you distribute the soapy dissolution evenly covering all surfaces following the wood grain and make sure the furniture is not soaked. Wood can be scrubbed with a natural hair brush or a soft sponge if the furniture is particularly dirty. All superfluous soap water should be dried off with a dry cloth. When the furniture is dry the process can be repeated until the required result is reached.

Soap treated wood can be carefully sanded along the grains of the wood using a fine grain sand paper or sanding pad. Please sand with caution, if the wood has gained a patina that you wish to keep. Sanding the wood will take away much of the patina. Sanding may be done after a soap wash treatment, but it is important that the wood is completely dry.

Oil treated wood

Oil treated wood should be washed the same way as soap treated wood once or twice a year or as necessary. PP Møbler recommend that a thin layer of oil is occasionally applied (though never more than twice a year) after it's been washed. Make sure the oil is evenly distributed. Dry off the furniture with a dry cloth following the wood grain, leaving it completely dry.

Clear oil on dark woods

On darker woods like oak, cherry, walnut, teak, rosewood and wenge PP Møbler use a clear oil that will enhance the natural rich colors of the wood.

White oil on light woods

On lighter woods like ash, beech and maple PP Møbler use a white oil that protects the natural light nuances of these woods. The appearance of white oiled woods are very similar to the appearance of soap treated wood. A special white oil is available for oak. PP Møbler do not recommend clear oil for ash, beech and maple.

Important!

Avoid getting oil on materials such as fabric or leather. Oil treated furniture can leave grease on contact surfaces. Do not place the furniture on carpet covered surfaces or on soap treated wooden floors until one to two weeks after the last oil treatment.

Cloths soaked in oil can self-ignite. Keep cloths in a closed metal container or glass, or dispose of them in a closed plastic bag containing a little water.
